

Homophones

Look at the example. There are some words that sound exactly the same but that are spelt differently. These words are called homophones. Read each pair of homophones and then write a sentence for each word. One has been done for you.

I see my friend play cricket.
I like going to the sea to play
on the beach.

Reading and Phonics

Recognises that the same spelling can represent different sounds, e.g. 'bread', 'read'.
