Sustainable tourism practises

FX

Businesses can upgrade the facilities and buildings by ploughing the profits back and make their tourism business more competitive and thus more sustainable in the long term. ✓✓

- A strong rand will generate more profit locally to encourage aggressive marketing locally and globally for sustainability of the tourism sector.
- The strong rand sets the multiplier effect into motion thereby expanding business opportunities for sustainability of the tourism sector.
- A strong rand creates opportunities for domestic travel. Fewer international tourists visiting South Africa; however, tourism becomes more sustainable through domestic income / prevents leakages.

A balance between economic and environmental benefits for the tourism industry.

A strong rand means that tourism businesses will generate more profits and they need to use these profits to make their businesses more environmentally friendly. ✓✓

- The discerning tourist will support tourism businesses that are eco-friendly.
- Although initial costs may be high, environmentally friendly measures will ultimately lower operational costs.
- A strong rand will result in less tourist coming to South Africa. This decrease in tourism will mean less air-pollution by aircraft and less land and sea pollution. It will lead to a more sustainable environment to live in (reduces impact of mass tourism).

Job creation

A strong rand means South Africans have more disposable income to spend on tourism products setting the multiplier effect in motion creating more jobs. ✓✓

- Increase in investor confidence will result in more employment opportunities. (3 x 2)
