AN AFRICAN THUNDERSTORM – David Rubadiri

- 1 From the west
- 2 Clouds came hurrying with the wind
- 3 Turning
- 4 Sharply
- 5 Here and there
- 6 Like a plague of locusts
- 7 Whirling
- 8 Tossing up things on its tail
- 9 Like a madman chasing nothing.
- 10 Pregnant clouds
- 11 Ride stately on its back
- 12 Gathering to perch on hills
- 13 Like dark sinister wings;
- 14 The Wind whistles by
- 15 And trees bend to let it pass.
- 16 In the village
- 17 Screams of delighted children
- 18 Toss and turn
- 19 In the din of whirling wind,
- 20 Women –
- 21 Babies clinging on their backs –
- 22 Dart about
- 23 In and out
- 24 Madly
- 25 The Wind whistles by
- 26 Whilst trees bend to let it pass.
- 27 Clothes wave like tattered flags
- 28 Flying off
- 29 To expose dangling breasts
- 30 As jagged blinding flashes
- 31 Rumble, tremble, and crack

QUESTION 2: CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the poem below and then answer the questions that follow.

THE ZULU GIRL – Roy Campbell

- 1 When in the sun the hot red acres smoulder,
 2 Down where the sweating gang its labour plies,
 3 A girl flings down her hoe, and from her shoulder
 4 Unslings her child tormented by the flies.
- 5 She takes him to a ring of shadow pooled
 6 By thorn-trees: purpled with the blood of ticks,
 7 While her sharp nails, in slow caresses ruled,
 8 Prowl through his hair with sharp electric clicks.
- 9 His sleepy mouth, plugged by the heavy nipple,
 10 Tugs like a puppy, grunting as he feeds:
 11 Through his frail nerves her own deep languors ripple
 12 Like a broad river sighing through its reeds.
- 13 Yet in that drowsy stream his flesh imbibes
 14 An old unquenched, unsmotherable heat –
 15 The curbed ferocity of beaten tribes,
 16 The sullen dignity of their defeat.
- 17 Her body looms above him like a hill
 18 Within whose shade a village lies at rest,
 19 Or the first cloud so terrible and still
 20 That bears the coming harvest in its breast.

FUNERAL BLUES – WH Auden

- 1 Stop all the clocks, cut off the telephone,
- 2 Prevent the dog from barking with a juicy bone,
- 3 Silence the pianos and with muffled drum
- 4 Bring out the coffin, let the mourners come.

- 5 Let aeroplanes circle moaning overhead
- 6 Scribbling on the sky the message He Is Dead.
- 7 Put crêpe bows round the white necks of the public doves,
- 8 Let the traffic policemen wear black cotton gloves.

- 9 He was my North, my South, my East and West,
- 10 My working week and my Sunday rest,
- 11 My noon, my midnight, my talk, my song;
- 12 I thought that love would last forever: I was wrong.

- 13 The stars are not wanted now; put out every one;

REMEMBER – Christina Rossetti

1 Remember me when I am gone away,
 2 Gone far away into the silent land;
 3 When you can no more hold me by the hand,
 4 Nor I half turn to go yet turning stay.
 5 Remember me when no more day by day
 6 You tell me of our future that you planned:
 7 Only remember me; you understand
 8 It will be late to counsel then or pray.
 9 Yet if you should forget me for a while
 10 And afterwards remember, do not grieve:
 11 For if the darkness and corruption leave
 12 A vestige of the thoughts that once I had,
 13 Better by far you should forget and smile
 14 Than that you should remember and be sad.

THE CLOTHES – Mongane Wally Serote

1 I came home in the morning.
 2 There on the stoep,
 3 The shoes I knew so well
 4 Dripped water like a window crying dew;
 5 The shoes rested the first time
 6 From when they were new.
 7 Now it's forever.

8 I looked back,
 9 On the washing line hung
 10 A shirt, jacket and trousers
 11 Soaked wet with pity,
 12 Wrinkled and crying reddish water, perhaps also salty;
 13 The pink shirt had a gash on the right,
 14 And stains that told the few who know
 15 An item of our death-live lives.

16 The colourless jacket still had mud,
 17 Dropping lazily from its body
 18 To join the dry earth beneath.

19 The over-sized black striped trousers,
 20 Dangled from one hip,
 21 Like a man from a rope 'neath his head,
 22 Tired of hoping to hope.

EXTRACT A

'Mother, Mother,' she cried, 'why does he love me so much? I know why I love him. I love him because he is like what Love himself should be. But what does he see in me? I am not worthy of him. And yet – why, I cannot tell – though I feel so much beneath him, I don't feel humble. I feel proud, terribly proud. Mother, did you love my father as I love Prince Charming?'

5

The elder woman grew pale beneath the coarse powder that daubed her cheeks, and her dry lips twitched with a spasm of pain. Sibyl rushed to her, flung her arms round her neck, and kissed her. 'Forgive me, Mother. I know it pains you to talk about our father. But it only pains you because you loved him so much. Don't look so sad. I am as happy to-day as you were twenty years ago. Ah! let me be happy for ever!'

10

'My child, you are far too young to think of falling in love. Besides, what do you know of this young man? You don't even know his name. The whole thing is most inconvenient, and really, when James is going away to Australia, and I have so much to think of, I must say that you should have shown more consideration. However, as I said before, if he is rich ...'

15

[Chapter 5]

EXTRACT B

After the coffee had been brought in, he stopped, and looking over at Lord Henry, said, 'Harry, did it ever occur to you that Basil was murdered?'

Lord Henry yawned. 'Basil was very popular, and always wore a Waterbury watch. Why should he have been murdered? He was not clever enough to have enemies. Of course he had a wonderful genius for painting. But a man can paint like Velasquez and yet be as dull as possible. Basil was really rather dull. He only interested me once, and that was when he told me, years ago, that he had a wild adoration for you, and that you were the dominant motive of his art.'

'What would you say, Harry, if I told you that I had murdered Basil?' said the younger man. He watched him intently after he had spoken.

10

'I would say, my dear fellow, that you were posing for a character that doesn't suit you. All crime is vulgar, just as all vulgarity is crime. It is not in you, Dorian, to commit a murder. I am sorry if I hurt your vanity by saying so, but I assure you it is true. Crime belongs exclusively to the lower orders. I don't blame them in the smallest degree. I should fancy that crime was to them what art is to us, simply a method of procuring extraordinary sensations.'

15

'I should fancy, however, that murder is always a mistake. One should never do anything that one cannot talk about after dinner.'

[Chapter 19]

7.5 Just prior to this extract, Lord Henry tells Dorian that people are discussing Basil's disappearance.

Explain why there is uncertainty about what has happened to Basil.

(3)

7.6 Refer to lines 7–8: '... he had a ... of his art.'

Explain the effect that Basil's 'adoration' has on Dorian's view of himself.

[25]QUESTION 9: LIFE OF PI – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the extracts below and then answer the questions that follow.

EXTRACT C

I'm a little early. I've just set foot on the cement steps of the front porch when a teenager bursts out the front door. He's wearing a baseball uniform and carrying baseball equipment, and he's in a hurry. When he sees me he stops dead in his tracks, startled. He turns around and hollers into the house, 'Dad! The writer's here.' To me he says, 'Hi,' and rushes off.

5

His father comes to the front door. 'Hello,' he says.

'That was your son?' I ask, incredulous.

'Yes.' To acknowledge the fact brings a smile to his lips. 'I'm sorry you didn't meet properly. He's late for practice. His name is Nikhil. He goes by Nick.'

I'm in the entrance hall. 'I didn't know you had a son,' I say. There's a barking. A small mongrel mutt, black and brown, races up to me, panting and sniffing. He jumps up against my legs. 'Or a dog,' I add.

10

'He's friendly. Tata, down!'

Tata ignores him. I hear 'Hello.'

I turn. Leaning against the sofa in the living room, looking up at me bashfully, is a little brown girl, pretty in pink, very much at home. She's holding an orange cat in her arms.

15

'And this is your daughter,' I say.

'Yes. Usha. Usha darling, are you sure Moccasin is comfortable like that.'

Usha drops Moccasin. He flops to the floor unperturbed.

Then Piscine Molitor Patel, known to all as Pi Patel, bends down and picks up his daughter. 20

...

This story has a happy ending.

EXTRACT D

'Here's another story.'

'Good.'

'The ship sank. It made a sound like a monstrous metallic burp. Things bubbled at the surface and then vanished. I found myself kicking water in the Pacific Ocean. I swam for a lifeboat. It was the hardest swim of my life. I didn't seem to be moving. I kept swallowing water. I was very cold. I was rapidly losing strength. I wouldn't have made it if the cook hadn't thrown me a lifebuoy and pulled me in. I climbed aboard and collapsed. 5

'Four of us survived. Mother held on to some bananas and made it to the lifeboat. The cook was already aboard, as was the sailor. 10

'He ate the flies. The cook that is. We hadn't been in the lifeboat a full day; we had food and water to last us for weeks; we had fishing gear and solar stills; we had no reason to believe that we wouldn't be rescued soon. Yet there he was, swinging his arms and catching flies and eating them greedily. Right away he was in a holy terror of hunger. He was calling us idiots and fools for not joining him in the feast. We were offended and disgusted, but we didn't show it. We were very polite about it. He was a stranger and a foreigner. Mother smiled and shook her head and raised her hand in refusal. He was a disgusting man.'

15

Sailors, my lord, they say, I saw them not.

They were given me by Claudio, he received them. 5

Laertes, you shall hear them

Leave us.

The Messenger off

'Tis Hamlet's character ... 'Naked'!

And in a postscript here he says 'alone.'

Can you advise me?

Will you be ruled by me?

CASSIO

In happy time, Iago.

IAGO

You have not been abed then?

CASSIO

Why, no. The day had broke before we parted.

I have made bold, Iago,

5

To send in to your wife. My suit to her

Is that she will to virtuous Desdemona

Procure me some access.

IAGO

I'll send her to you presently,

And I'll devise a mean to draw the Moor

10

Out of the way, that your converse and business

May be more free.

CASSIO

I humbly thank you for it. (Iago off) I never knew

A Florentine more kind and honest.

15

Enter Emilia

EMILIA

Good morrow, good lieutenant. I am sorry

For your displeasure, but all will soon be well.

The General and his wife are talking of it,

And she speaks for you stoutly. The Moor replies

20

That he you hurt is of great fame in Cyprus

And great affinity, and that in wholesome wisdom

He might not but refuse you. But he protests he loves you

And needs no other suitor but his likings

To take the safest occasion by the front

To bring you in again.

CASSIO

Yet I beseech you,
If you think fit or that it may be done,
Give me advantage of some brief discourse
With Desdemona alone.

EMILIA

Pray you, come in. 30
I will bestow you where you shall have time
To speak your bosom freely

CASSIO

I am much bound to you.

EXTRACT HOTHELLO

Lie with her? Lie on her? We say lie on her when they belie her. Lie with her! Zounds, that's fulsome! Handkerchief ... confessions ... handkerchief! To confess and be hanged for his labour. First to be handed and then to confess! I tremble at it. Nature would not invest herself in such shadowing passion without some instruction. It is not words that shake me thus! Pish! Noses, ears, and lips! Is't possible? ... Confess? ... Handkerchief! ... O devil!

*He falls in a tranceIAGO

Work on,
My medicine, work! Thus credulous fools are caught,
And many worthy and chaste dames even thus,
All guiltless, meet reproach. What ho, my lord!
My lord, I say! Othello!

Enter Cassio

How now, Cassio? 15

CASSIO

What's the matter?

IAGO

My lord is fallen into an epilepsy.
This is his second fit; he had one yesterday.

CASSIO

Rub him about the temples.

IAGO

No, forbear. 20

The lethargy must have his quiet course.
If not, he foams at mouth, and by and by
Breaks out to savage madness. Look, he stirs.
Do you withdraw yourself a little while.
He will recover straight. When he is gone,
I would on great occasion speak with you.

Cassio off

How is it, General? Have you not hurt your head?

OTHELLO

Dost thou mock me?

IAGO

I mock you? No, by heaven! 30

Would you would bear your fortune like a man!

OTHELLO

A horned man's a monster and a beast.

IAGO

There's many a beast then in a populous city,
And many a civil monster.
